

What do you need to do?

students can enter projects on any aspect of history in Hampshire.

Examples can include a website to tell the story of their school, PowerPoints about the history of their school or town, a film of students recording their own experiences during the pandemic (i.e. creating their own archive), as well as a range of posters, essays and films about famous Hampshire people and events. We are keen to encourage students to work on projects that interest them, so projects can be in any format. They can be on things like the history of their school, college, town, village or street, their family, or a particular historic event in Hampshire.

Students will need to demonstrate the use of archives in their chosen project.

What are archives?

Although projects can use lots of different sources, particular weight will be given to the use of primary sources in the form of archives. This can, include documents such as letters, diaries, legal documents, but archives are not restricted to documents: photographs, film footage and voice recordings can also be used.
