Study Provision for Year 11 students

Dear parents and carers

We would like to share our arrangements to support our Year 11 students to ensure they have access to their teachers until each exam in a subject has been completed.

Students are expected to attend full-time until Friday 24th May. They may have one or more exams timetabled and will follow their normal timetable when not in an exam. Break times for Year 11 have been adjusted where appropriate to ensure all students have sufficient time and access to catering facilities.

Pre-Exam Provision

For the exams prior to half term, we have mapped the last lesson in each subject as revision sessions and an effective way to help students focus on the essentials of subject and technique. Teachers will guide students in revision.

Study Leave

Study leave is not an entitlement. There may be students for whom we recommend intervention sessions in school and cannot guarantee that all students will be granted leave to revise at home. For most students though, after half term, from Monday 3rd June, they may choose to study at home. We have arranged a program of revision sessions for exams taking place after half term. We strongly encourage students to attend. Sessions in subjects are planned to take place on the day of, or before an exam wherever possible.

Students must be on site in full school uniform, in good time to start each exam.

Can a student come in for an exam and then leave?

On those days where a student has exams scheduled for both the morning and afternoon sessions; we would prefer that they attend programmed revision sessions where appropriate. The school cannot take any responsibility for any year 11 student who chooses to leave site during the school day once the exam period has started. Supervised revision rooms will be available for independent revision to any students who remain on site between exam sessions and are not in subject revision. Our expectation is that students leaving site are going to revise, either at home or with others. They must sign themselves out at Student Services prior to leaving the school site. If you do not wish your child to leave the site, please let us know through their tutor.

Registration

Students are expected to arrive at school in full uniform and with the equipment they need to sit an exam.

There is no tutor or registration as students will be registered in their exam room. Students attending to sit exams should congregate in the Main Hall at 08:40 to check seating arrangements for the day.

Independent study

Students present in school must remain in the allocated revision room(s) during lesson times. They should only be in a revision room if they are not sitting an exam or there is no subject revision session relevant to them. It is not a choice to either attend the session or go to the revision room if programmed sessions are taking place. The revision rooms will, where possible, be staffed by Year 11 teachers whose classes have finished their exams.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact us should you have any further questions:

If questions are subject specific, we recommend you contact teachers or subject leaders, directly.

Yours faithfully

Mr M Nevola

Revision sessions will take place within the available lesson times. Where exams finish later than the start of a lesson, or where students take an early lunch break for afternoon exams, sessions will be adjusted accordingly.
